

Meet hairstylist... Jen Atkin

With a following at salons in LA, NYC, and Dubai, 230,000-plus Instagram fans, and a contract with nourishing brand Clear Scalp & Hair, Jen Atkin is as in demand as her clients (most famously, Khloé Kardashian). Here, her top products and fave spots for unique accessories. By Taryn Adler

FOREIGN FINDS "I always vintage shop when I travel," says Atkin, an LA resident. "I've found a lot of chic, wide-brimmed hats at markets in Rome [above]." She also frequents the fabric section of British department store Liberty London. "It has great ribbons and hair accessories."

HAIR DRESSER Atkin's cool walk-in closet (above) is packed with designer duds like Givenchy, Charlotte Ronson, and Céline. "I love fashion," she says. "The runway inspires Hollywood's red carpet big-time."

CROWNING MOMENT Shooting Katy Perry's album art in Sweden turned into a career highlight for Atkin. "At the end of the day, I styled just her hair—no wigs or extensions—to create this '90s-inspired look. It became the cover of Prism [inset]!"

LOCK PICKS Atkin, who hasn't cut her hair in eight months, swears it's never been healthier, thanks to moisturizing cactus extract—infused Clear Scalp & Hair Intense Hydration Shampoo ($5; drugstores). "It's important to care for hair at the root because that's where resilience starts," she explains. Her other must? A Mason Pearson Boar Bristle Hairbrush ($120; beauty.com).

MAKING THE CUT "I recently gave Jessica Alba [left] a really cool, blunt 'lob,'" says Atkin, dropping the hottest new hair term (long plus bob = lob). "I removed any thin layers and made a clean line, which is in style now."

"Don't make any big hair decisions about color or cut if you're going through a major life change."
